Collaboration Supports Advanced Lighting Workshop Access Humboldt joins Humboldt State University and FilmHumboldt

Eureka, California – Access Humboldt and FilmHumboldt are joining with Humboldt State University (HSU) to offer an advanced lighting and skill sharing workshop for their members and HSU students.

The Advanced Lighting Workshop will be held on Friday December 5th from 9:00am to 12 Noon at the Studio Theater on HSU campus in Arcata. Contact Access Humboldt for information – accesshumboldt.net or call 707-476-1798.

HSU Film Professor David Scheerer is coordinating the workshop with technical wizards and lighting designers, Steve Liminoff and Jim McHugh from HSU, and Landy Hardy, DP/Director with Talking Pictures. Special lighting and grip equipment is being provided by Access Humboldt.

Patti Stammer of Scout Humboldt and vice president of the Board of Directors for FilmHumboldt said “We are nurturing local talent because our goal is to keep future filmmakers working here. This training collaboration is part of our collective efforts to build the local industry – it’s about job creation.”

“Professional skill training is part of our mission - and local voices become clearer with better lighting,” said AH’s executive director Sean McLaughlin. “Thanks to FilmHumboldt and Humboldt State University for their support.”
